

Cape Barren Goose Cereopsis novaehollandiae			M/F Similar  Bill is black @ 2.5 in with a pale yellow/green cere covering over half of it	Length	30-39 in
				Weight	8.2-11.5 lbs
Magpie Goose Anseranas semipalmata			M/F Similar Male is larger in Size In its own category Endemic to Australia	Length	28-36 in
				Weight	4.4-6.0 lbs
Spur-wing Goose Plectropterus gambensis			2 Subspecies Large Species In its own category Males differ from females having a larger red facial patch	Length	30-45 in
				Weight	8.8-15.0 lbs
Egyptian Goose Alopochen aegyptiaca			M/F similar  a dark neck ring and black eye patch	Length	25-29 in
				Weight	6.6-14.3 lbs
Blue-winged Goose Cyanochen cyanoptera			M/F look Similar Black Bill and Legs	Length	28 in
				Weight	2.8-5.2 lbs
				Length
				Weight

plumage is mostly pale grey with a slight brown tint. The head is small in proportion to the body with a pale whitish patch on the forehead

A black neck with a white body. The crown of the head is pronounced and increases in size with a males age. Bills and legs are orange. Feet are only partially webbed mainly black, with a white face and large white wing patches. The long legs are pinkish red in colour. Males also have a knob at the base of the upper mandible

Male and Female are identical in plumage but the males are usually larger .Mostly shades of tan and brown. Big white patches on black wings They vary in plumage tone. Some birds greyer and others browner stocky grey-brown bird with a paler head and upper neck. Standing bird look dull, gray and dirty white, sometimes showing blue along the edge of the wing. In flight, shows a pale blue forewing with a green speculum