

Blue-winged Teal Hen:

Plumage: The body is coarsely marked with brown and buffy tones.

Head: The head is bluish-gray with a bold white crescent in front of the eye. Dark eye stripe to the nape

Bill: The bill is grey/black. Often spotted

Wings: The wings have a powder-blue patch on the upper-wing coverts.

Cinnamon Teal Hen:

Plumage: The body is reddish-brown, similar to the color of cinnamon.

Head: The head is also reddish-brown, lacking the white crescent found in Blue-winged Teals. Shorter dark eye stripe.

Bill: The bill is dark, often appearing black.

Wings: The wings have a powder-blue patch on the upper-wing coverts.

